- Help you recognize deep level psychological & occupational themes that emerge from your clients' profiles
- Provide you with ways to understand what your clients are communicating to you, via their WOWI profiles, regarding their views about:
  - work;
  - the types of work they prefer and want to avoid;
  - the types of organizations to which they are best suited;
  - and the aspects of work that most motivate and punish them
- Give you the opportunity to practice using the information gained in all three levels of training on four to five of your own client profiles
